

NewsRelease

Command Financial's Automated TSR Offering

New York, June 6th, 2023: As part of Command Financial's continued upgrades and improvements to their content management and automation system, CAPS, Command is happy to announce the development of our automated CAPS TSR Module. This module will create TSR's and associated EDGAR and iXBRL filings. iXBRL filings will generate within CAPS in minutes. Output will be Word file, Print ready PDF or EDGAR/iXBRL for filing. N-CSR filings with new iXBRL content can be filed by user directly from CAPS, or by Command outside of CAPS. This added functionality, coupled with enhanced integrity and consistency of data, improved workflow and staff efficiencies, and reduced or eliminated typesetting costs, makes CAPS a best-of-breed product used by more than 3,000 funds.

For a CAPS TSR Software demonstration please contact us at salesinfo@commandfinancial.com

About Command Financial:

Command Financial has continually redefined financial printing for more than 30 years by offering the latest in fully integrated technology-based solutions and personalized service. Command provides a full range of services including state-of-the-art typesetting, highly experienced customer service, in-house proofreading, EDGAR, iXBRL, language translation, extensive in-house press capacity, and mail/distribution. Command also offers industry-leading content management through their Command Automated Publishing System, which is a content management and automated document assembly tool that uses an intuitive user interface and a database driven virtual library, allowing clients to manage and repurpose information across prospectuses, shareholder reports, and other documents. Through innovation and service, Command Financial has become a trusted and preferred vendor to many of the leading public companies, law firms and investment companies worldwide.